Tenth Representative Bureaucracy Mini-Conference and Workshop | Midwest Political Science Association 2026

Call for Proposals & Workshop Posted on 8/15/2025

We would like to invite scholars to participate in the 2026 Annual Representative Bureaucracy Mini-Conference and Workshop held in conjunction with the Midwest Political Science Association meetings in Chicago, Illinois (USA) April 23rd-26th, 2025. As has been common in years past, we are interested in papers that address any question related to Representative Bureaucracy. Specifically, we are interested in papers that shed new theoretical insights into bureaucratic representation. This can include manuscripts which extend the theory to new contexts, propose new dimensions of the representation process, challenge existing assumptions, and explore any novel, clever, or innovative way to advance the literature not already mentioned. Moreover, we would like to expand the workshop to include proposals on research designs, methodological approaches, and measurement techniques. Those interested are also welcome to submit papers which "failed", as these manuscripts are often just as illuminating to theory building as are the successes. To participate, please submit a proposal to the workshop cochairs:

- Danyao Li, University of Southern California, danyaol@usc.edu
- Austin McCrea, Texas Tech University, austin.mccrea@ttu.edu

Deadline:
October 7, 2025

Special Collections | Asia Pacific Journal of Public Administration

Special Collection Posted on 7/18/2025

The Asia Pacific Journal of Public Administration maintains several special collections that address pressing issues in contemporary governance and public administration.

📚 Public Administration in Authoritarian Regimes explores the relationship between political systems and bureaucratic behavior and performance. This collection sheds light on critical questions central to understanding how public administration functions under authoritarian governance.

📚 Public Service Motivation features scholarship that advances both theoretical and practical perspectives on public service motivation, with a particular emphasis on contextualism and regional variation. A core aim is to strengthen non-Western contributions to the literature by leveraging insights from diverse governance settings.

📚 Digital Transformation in Public Administration examines the evolving role of digital technologies in shaping public sector decision-making and service delivery. With a focus on the Asia Pacific region, this collection investigates the successes, challenges, and institutional shifts associated with digital governance.

Together, these curated article collections offer scholars and practitioners a deepened understanding of key dynamics in public administration across varying political, institutional, and technological contexts.
